Racket sports

Experience sport like never before

The Region of Valencia is establishing itself as an international destination for racket sports, especially tennis and padel. The Mediterranean climate, with over 300 days of sunshine a year, together with first-class sports facilities and a network of quality accommodation, make this region a unique place for playing, training and competing at any time of year. Added to this is the excellent connectivity with the main European markets, which facilitates the arrival of professional players, sports schools and enthusiasts looking to enjoy experiences related to racket sports.

The region has sports facilities, many of them specialising in tennis and padel, with indoor and outdoor courts, high-performance academies and complexes with technical services adapted to all levels. These facilities have been chosen by elite athletes for their training and are also open to people who want to combine holidays and sport in the same trip.

At the same time, the region offers a wide range of technical training programmes, campuses and renowned academies that attract young talent and players in training from all over the world.

The sporting offer is complemented by an unrivalled natural and urban environment. From courts nestled next to the Mediterranean Sea to complexes located in the heart of the mountains, each setting adds a unique value to the player's experience.

The Region of Valencia is not only a place to compete, but also to experience racket sports as part of a lifestyle. With a solid network of tourism companies affiliated with the Creaturisme programme, the destination offers experiences designed for different types of tourists, always guaranteeing quality, professionalism and sustainability.

Choose the Region of Valencia as your next tennis and padel destination and discover a region where sporting tradition meets innovation and the Mediterranean lifestyle. A land that welcomes players and visitors from all over the world and which, year after year, reinforces its position as one of the most complete and attractive destinations for enjoying racket sports.
